I am a college student who hates coming home because there is nothing to eat in this town besides pizza. Vin Bin is sobo's greatest asset and we need places like this that offer fresh and unique/ light options--not pizza. This new downtown should revolve around food because people get excited about food and people are willing to commute for a good bite. This downtown should smell like our own little north end when you drive through.	8/9/2017 3:54 PM
